Pure On The Wedding Day

The above is God's plan. It is not promoted in our public schools. It is not accepted among many of our youth's peers or their parents. It would be laughed at on MTV and is hardly ever (if ever) seen on any TV show being produced today.

Parents, do you want your children to be virgins when they marry? Your answer to this question will probably have a great bearing on the fact of whether they are or are not. Your instruction, encouragement, and protection can make a tremendous difference in the decisions your child makes toward purity. Let us consider these things:

1. Remind our youth who owns them. They were bought by the blood of Jesus (I Cor. 6:18-20), therefore it is not "their body."
 2. Make sure they know how far is "too far" before they ever leave for a date. In the heat of a moment is not time for a teenager to try to make this decision.
 3. Do not allow children to date too soon. The earlier the children date the more likely they are to be sexually active. It is not fair to children to expect them to make decisions and handle pressure that is not child's play. This is why God gave children parents – to protect them from such.
 4. Teach your children how to say "no." Many girls report they did not want to be sexually active, but they did not know how to say "no." Let us raise our children with backbones and conviction. The stronger spiritually they are the less this will happen.
 5. Teach them God's word: "Flee fornication." Hold your children accountable to God's law. A boy and girl

Anyone is welcome to attend. Jerry Steele will be the teacher.

BIBLE BOWL

We must know this week all the names of the participants so that they can be turned in to the host congregation. Additionally, coaches need to know shirt sizes of all participants. Please give them to your respective coach.

Spending time alone in a house is foolish on their part and their parents part. Many sexual activities take place between 3 and 5 in the afternoon among latch key kids. Parents, we are responsible for our children until they are adults.

6. Do not date fornicators. Paul encourages Christians not to keep company with fornicators (I Cor. 5:9) and to remember that bad company removes good morals (I Cor. 15:33). Too often Christians say, "I can change them." Dating is not an effective form of evangelism. If we want to change someone, study the Bible with them. If they do not change, then definitely do not date them!

7. Love is not measured by sex. One says, "If you love me you will have sex with me." That is a lie. Fornicators will not enter heaven. Love for someone is wanting what is good for them, not what will condemn them (I Cor. 13:5-6). We must teach our children the radical difference between love and lust.

8. The price is not worth it. It breaks our relationship with God. Separation from God to be joined to a sinner, is not worth it (I Cor. 6:15). Fornication steals our virginity never to return it. What is given up in a few minutes can never become a virgin.

9. Fornication can produce unwanted pregnancies. Many teens who fornicate become pregnant. There are usually four outcomes and all are painful. 1. Abortion (sin). 2. Unwanted marriage (foolish). 3. Single teenage mother (difficult for mother and child). 4. Place the baby for adoption (wisest decision of all in most cases, but painful for the mother).

10. We reap what we sow (Gal. 6:7). The spiritual consequences of a fornicator who does not seek God's forgiveness is condemnation (I Cor. 6:9-10). Sexually transmitted diseases are painful and deadly. The trust factor between spouses is usually weakened when one spouse has been promiscuous even if it was before marriage. Relationships are sought through the wrong motives by fornicators causing them not to experience pure love for the right reasons.

"Fathers,...bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord" (Ephesians 6:4).

Parents ask, "what could I say which would encourage my children to remain sexually pure?" A lot!

Let's start talking.
