DOCTRINE AND LIFE

Dennis Gullledge

There is, and always has been, a direct relationship between the doctrine of Christ and living. People have not always recognized or appreciated that association. Doctrine is not a sacred deposit for the sole purpose of theological debate, or of winning arguments. Life is not something isolated or separated from doctrine (teaching), because of what people believe determines what they do. As water rises no higher than its source, the disciple is not above his master (Matthew 10:24).

The book of Romans well exemplifies this principle with its emphasis on both the doctrinal and practical aspects of Christianity. Roy Deaver, in his book, Romans: God's Plan For Man's Righteousness, suggests that this Pauline product is made up of a four-fold division: (1) Introduction (1:1-17), (2) Doctrinal (1:18-11:36), (3) Practical (12:1-15:13), and (4) Conclusion (15:14-16:37) [pp.628-629]. The doctrinal section of Romans shows the universal need of salvation satisfied by the gospel. When these things are in place in a Christian's life balance is the result.

There may be those who receive this bulletin who are searching God's Word to see what they must do to be saved. If you are searching for salvation, we encourage you to turn and study these Bible references:

- One must HEAR the gospel plan of salvation (John 6:45; Revelation 1:3)
- One must BELIEVE (have faith) in Christ (James 2:24; Mark 16:16; John 6:29)
- One must REPENT of sin (Luke 13:3; Acts 2:38; 3:19)
- One must CONFESS Christ deity (Romans 10:9,10; Matthew 10:32,33)
- One must BE IMMERSSED FOR FORGIVENESS OF SINS (1 Peter 3:21; Acts 22:16)
- One must BE FAITHFUL UNTO DEATH (Revelation 2:10)

CARDS

A special thanks to each and everyone that came to see me and sent cards while I was recuperating especially the Thursday Visitation Group.

Love Always,
Vi Hiatt

Dear Brethren at Northside,
Thank you so much for your cards, inquiries, and most of all your prayers! I have enjoyed your fellowship over the years! Continue to remember me.

In Christian Love,
Beth Brewer

Thanks to all who supported our Teacher's Banquet. Being a teacher, mother and grandmother, I have always been thankful that the elders at Northside have always provided one of the best teaching programs in our area. Thanks to those who helped me: Peggy Ross- decorating, Larry Rhea- banner, Heather Dillon- printing, workers, Milton and June Cochrum, Ray and Ruth Edwards, Nancy Hargrove, Bill Ross and Bill Satterwhite. Thanks especially to Jill Kirby for making our dessert and over seeing the kitchen and to Kara who worked so hard to get our ideas made up for the teacher's goody bags and did so many other things to make our banquet a success. Thanks to Murrell Fitzgerald for being our speaker and to Jason Fitzgerald and Kevin Fortner who do such a good job in our Education Dept. Northside is blessed with willing workers. Thanks so very much for all your help.

Shirley Satterwhite

One of the troublesome phenomena of our day is the current disdain for any belief system that demands an adherence to a set of rules, or doctrine. Yet, the Bible is clear: Jesus commissioned his apostles to teach those obedient to the gospel to "observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you" (Matthew 28:20). Along this same line the Savior said, "If ye love me, keep my commandments" (John 14:15), and "If anyone loves me, he will keep my word" (Vs. 23, NKJB). Again, Jesus asked, "And why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say" (Luke 6:46). It seems that these thoughts have little more than a dead ring in this day of the dominant philosophies of modernism, postmodernism, pluralism, and liberalism.

Particular points of doctrine are pertinent to us to the degree that we allow them to influence and shape our lives. For, example, the return of the Lord Jesus Christ is a point of doctrine. Should it make a difference in the way we live? After detailing certain truths about the coming of the Lord "as a thief in the night," Peter said, "Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness...Wherefore, beloved, seeing that ye look for such things, I be diligent that ye may be found of him in peace, without spot, and blameless" (2 Peter 3:11, 13). We can ill afford to ignore the relevance of doctrine to daily life.

The attitude has long been with us that Biblical doctrine is basically irrelevant, and calculated mostly to offend people. This modernistic notion accounts for the scarcity of doctrinal sermons in our pulpits. To the degree that the doctrine of Christ is absent from our preaching our lives will be vacant of real meaning and direction. Bible doctrine is relevant to living, but it must be seen as well as heard!

CONGRATULATIONS

Congratulation to Cody Burgess for placing 5th in Science in the District Governor's Cup. Cody is also on Mayfield's quick recall team and they placed second at the District Governor's Cup.

UPCOMING EVENTS

We have two big events coming up in March. First, is our gospel meeting with Jim Roberts, March 13-16. Second, is the Bible Bowl at Broadway church of Christ on Saturday, March 19th.
