4. Think of the person that is the easiest to talk with.
5. Think of the person that you probably see the most often and would have the most opportunity to conduct a Bible study with.
6. Think of the person that probably would have the most time to study.
7. Think of the person that impresses you as the most sincere and conscientious.
8. Think of a person of another race that you know.
9. Think of any member of the church with family who are non-Christians.
